“ BROTHER OF MINES!!! Dameone, You have walked me through all aspects of life. The first person, to pull up when things got hectic. The first person to support me from all aspects of life. The first person to hold the mirror so I can see myself in a different light. The first man to let me ball out on their dime. The first person to see God in me. The first person to listen without judgment and moved accordingly. The first person to make me stand tall on my morals, beliefs, and principles. Thanks for being a great BIG brother to me!!!!
