

Mrs. Eddie Mae Taylor

April 30, 1938 - September 9, 2022

We have come together to celebrate the life and legacy of Eddie Mae Taylor. She was born April 30, 1938, to the late Lamar White and Lydia Paschal White in Magnolia, Arkansas.

Mrs. Eddie Mae Taylor accepted Christ at an early age and joined Austin Temple Church of God in Christ under the leadership of the late L.A. Austin. She was thrilled as a graduate of Magnolia High School. She was united in holy matrimony to the late Otha Lee Taylor and to this union 5 children were born. Eddie Mae was a housewife and loved her family and always made sure that they were well taken care of. The house was always tidy, and she always had something cooking on the stove. She loved cooking and every holiday she insisted on cooking the meals for the family. She made the best Chicken and Dressing.

She loved her 10 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren and was there to help with raising them and they adored her. She was strict but spoiled them as well.

She loved music and would be going through the house singing "He Will Wash You Whiter Than Snow". She would talk about The White Sister's a gospel group that consisted of her and her sisters and how they sung in church and on the radio. Also, she would quote scriptures. She would quote this one the most Matthew 24:44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not he Son of man cometh.

She loved reading books and magazines. There was always a stack of them on the coffee table and she would read them over and over again. Whenever someone tried to dispose of them, she would have a fit. Also, she loved watching TV Let's Make a Deal, and the Price is Right on. She would get so excited as if she had won.

On September 9, 2022, Eddie Mae transitioned from this life to eternal life. She was preceded in death by her father: Lamar White; mother: Lydia Paschal White; brothers: Richard K. White, Robert Harper, and Herman Britt Jr.

She is survived by four daughters: Barbara Scott of Camden, AR, Sharon Taylor of Emerson AR, Brenda Taylor of Haynesville LA, and Debra Wright-Anderson of Jonesboro GA, son: Daniel Taylor of Magnolia AR; three sisters: Lillie Mae Cochran of Texarkana TX, Mary Ruth Brown and Maureen White of Richmond, CA; two brothers: Walter Samuel (Pat) White of Houston TX, and James (Barbara) White of Magnolia AR; grandchildren: Adrian Smith Jr., Jasmine Scott, Travis Penigar, Kordero Penigar, Nakia Penigar, Cornelius Wright Jr., Tiffany Wright, Briana Brown, Jaelin Taylor, Enrique Easter and numerous relatives and friends who will cherish many unforgettable memories of her.
