“ I really don't have a memory of LaCora but I have recently found the Biddle family to be my birth family. I never got the chance to meet her or any of you but my heart goes out to you as you find your way through your loss. When the sadness comes over you, think of her smile or something that she had done to make you smile. She may not be with you in the flesh but all that you have experienced with her will always be part of you. Such a young lady is now with God. My thoughts and prayers are with you all. God Bless you all.
