I Made bad mistakes.
I Broke some promises.
I Forgot who I was.
But I got back up,
I ALWAYS WILL.

Mother, I miss you dearly. I'm deeply grateful to Father Yah for blessing and choosing me to be one of your sons. No other mother compares to the love you gave and showed. You didn't just raise us; you taught us the true meaning of love, showing and giving love, and lastly respect through your own example. I thank Father Yah for allowing you to be the one to guide us, and for the wisdom you taught and poured into our lives. My beautiful mother, you are loved beyond expressions and words, and you're so appreciated more than you could ever know. I will cherish all of the good memories (As well as the bad). It's your positive way of thinking and outlook on life, that brought me up and out of many of storms. Mother, may Father Yah continue to bless and keep you wrapped tightly in his loving arms. You earned your wings, 100x's above and beyond. I'll always love and adore you, my beautiful Mother.

Your son....Steve
